Five Killed and 60 Injured as Storms Lash South

4 STATES SUFFER EXTENSIVE LOSS IN WINDS, RAINS

Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Florida All Feel Force of Tornado Winds and Flooding Rainfall.

EXPERTS PUZZLED BY DISTURBANCES

Mississippi Reports Almost All of Human Casualties in Storms of "Freakish" Nature.

By the Associated Press.
Freak wind storms in widely scattered sections of the southeast last night and today left at least five persons dead and 60 injured, and extensive property damage.

Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Florida areas were affected by the storms, with all of the reported fatalities and 53 of the injuries in Simpson and Covington counties, Mississippi.

Weather observers were at a loss to account for the disturbances, which occurred far from the center of the area of low barometric pressure. The lowest barometer reading reported this morning was 29.40 from Springfield, Mo., and even that is well above the level at which meteorologists ordinarily expect severe weather.

Heavy precipitation over a large area in the south accompanied the disturbance which was reported moving eastward at a slow rate.

Three Dying.
Three of those injured in the Mississippi tornado last night were reported probably fatally hurt.

Mrs. Anne Everett, 25, crushed as she held a baby in her arms at her home near Magee, Miss. The house was demolished but the infant was unhurt.

Paul Brown, 2, killed in the collapse of the farm house of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown, near Magee.

Three negroes, Hattie Lee, 22, and Nannie Lou Lee, 16, killed when their farm house near Magee collapsed, and the 2-year-old son of Aaron Smith, killed at a turpentine camp nearby.

The critically injured are William Lee, his wife and one son.

John Rankin, Magee farmer whose home was blown two and a half miles to a point where it blocked a highway, was found with his family today, but his wife was seriously hurt.

Alabama with six persons, all negroes, reported hurt, suffered more than any area except Mississippi, and had more storm areas. All of the injured were caught by the wind on plantations near Greenville as twisting winds uprooted trees and tore down buildings over a five-mile strip several hundred yards wide.

Homes Demolished.
Several homes were demolished and others damaged at River View, Ala., near the Georgia line in another storm early today. There were no injuries there, but a baseball park grandstand was deposited on a cottage and a child ill from pneumonia barely escaped as the brick house in which he was lying was demolished.

Telephone and electric service was disrupted over large areas.

State Leader Dies

J. W. GRESHAM.

ILLNESS IS FATAL TO J. W. GRESHAM

Former Mayor of Griffin Dies Here; Was Noted Manufacturer.

J. W. Gresham, former mayor of Griffin and president of the Gresham Manufacturing Company of Griffin and Atlanta, died Thursday afternoon at the Piedmont hospital here, where he was brought last Tuesday. He had been ill only a short time and his death came as a surprise to his friends.

Survivors will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Gresham residence in Griffin. The body will be temporarily interred in the family vault in Barnesville, Ga. Mr. Gresham, who was 56 years old, was a native of Jones county, and had resided in Griffin for the past 30 years. He was one of the most prominent men in Spaulding county, and one of the largest property owners in Griffin. He was widely known in that section and in Atlanta, where he had business interests.

Mr. Gresham was also vice president and treasurer of the Griffin Knitting Mills at the time of his death. A part of the property which he owned is the Griffin hotel, the Imperial hotel, the Imperial theater, the Marian apartments, and a half a block of the business on Hill street.

Charles T. Gresham, his brother, is the manager of the Atlanta plant of the Gresham Manufacturing Company at 46 Brookwood drive, N. W., and resides at 1000 Spring street, N. W.

Mr. Gresham was a member of the Griffin Baptist church, and took an active part in its affairs. He was also a member of the Masonic lodge of that city.

Surviving are his wife; one son, Jack Gresham; a daughter, Miss Marian Gresham, all of Griffin, and his brother here.

3 Killed, 2 Injured When Plane Crashes

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Three men lost their lives and two others, including the pilot, were injured seriously when an American Airways plane crashed in a rain-soaked cornfield 12 miles east of here tonight.

The dead: A. L. Wenner, Cincinnati; E. Store, Cincinnati and A. C. Mayer, Louisville, Ky.

The injured: L. J. Bowen, Louisville, the pilot; W. D. Wieback, Cincinnati.

Traditional Dish of Hog Jowl To Feature City's New Year Dinner

Despite the lack of "hog killing" weather there will be enough hog jowl to go around and Atlanta today will sit down to steaming platters of the succulent meat boiled with black-eyed peas, flanked on the side with corned beef, cabbage and collards, and garnished with a sprig of parsley.

For this is New Year's Day and tradition ordains a "simple" diet in order that humanity will be kept plenty during the 245 days to come.

Yes, indeed!—there will be 365 days more this year, for it is Leap Year and February throws in an extra day to make up for hours lost during the last four years which started in 1928 with "good times," but grew weary of prosperity in 1929 and lagged so far as material benefits go.

After a period of usual New Year hysteria Atlanta awoke this morning, for the greater part sober and sane following a night spent in kicking the 1931 in the pants and extending a glad hand to 1932. All were ready to settle back to a routine of simpering symbolism by the supposedly lowly dish of jowl and peas, though that menu is by no means to be applied by any epicure.

There were those of necessity—who partook of a breakfast largely composed of bromo seltzer and sedatives, but by noon they should be ready to join in the repeat consumption of the traditional dish.

The new year arrived last night at midnight in a fanfare of welcome.

WOMEN TAKE LEAD IN VOTE DEFEATING FINNISH DRY LAW

75 Per Cent of Ballots Record Desire for Repeal of National Prohibition Statutes.

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER.
HELSINGFORS, Finland, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists alike admitted tonight as the returns came in from the country-wide referendum that 1932 is likely to be a wet year for Finland.

In the former parliament building 510 clerks worked in three shifts to tabulate the vote and by 9 o'clock their count of about one-fifth the total vote indicated that 75 per cent were for repeal of the present prohibition laws, 24.2 per cent voted to retain the laws and 0.8 per cent for modification to permit the sale of light wines and beer.

What surprised observers most was that 60 per cent of the repeal votes in early returns in this city were cast by women.

The largest newspaper in Helsingfors estimated on the basis of its own poll in various sections of the country that the final vote would show a 68 per cent majority for repeal.

"Reason has conquered," said T. O. Kivimaki, the minister of justice.

"The Finnish home has been saved," said Professor Lucina Hagman, who was one of the most ardent drys among Finland's women when the prohibition law was adopted 13 years ago.

The trend was disappointing to prohibitionists, but the leaders of the faction indicated a determination to continue their fight.

FLOYD CHAIN GANG NOW UNSUPPORTED

County, State Both Refuse To Provide Food or Guards at Camp.

ROME, Ga., Dec. 31.—Approximately a score of misdemeanor prisoners at the Floyd county chain gang faced the New Year, at midnight Thursday, with only one man to prevent them from escaping or to operate the camp, and with no prospects of food or other supplies when the limousine now at the camp are exhausted.

This situation developed Thursday afternoon when the Floyd county jailer, who is acquainted with the inmates, said tonight: "There is no scandal whatsoever connected with the affair—it was simply a case of neglect, which Mr. Walker himself helped the government to straighten out."

It is understood the settlement involved the assessment of a penalty upon the former governor.

Senator Harris, democrat of Georgia, who is acquainted with the inmates, said tonight: "There is no scandal whatsoever connected with the affair—it was simply a case of neglect, which Mr. Walker himself helped the government to straighten out."

It is understood the settlement involved the assessment of a penalty upon the former governor.

25,000 PAID GOVERNMENT BY EX-GOVERNOR WALKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—It was revealed today that officials of the bureau of internal revenue have levied a tax assessment and penalty of more than $25,000 against former Governor Clifford Walker, of Georgia, for failure to make a proper report in filing his income tax returns.

Bureau officials would not comment on the case today. This is in keeping with a strict legal injunction against divulging information of the kind, but from other sources it was learned that Governor Walker recently settled the case during a visit to Washington shortly before the Christmas holidays.

He is reported to have been compelled to meet an additional assessment of some $18,000 on income tax due, plus a penalty of $10,000 for late payment of his returns, the total amounting to approximately $28,000. Heads of the bureau are understood to have insisted upon his assumption of the full liability, refusing a compromise on the heavy penalty imposed.

The income tax year involved could not be learned definitely today, but it was assessed and penalty levied after the expiration of his last term as governor in 1927. Likewise the nature of the omission could not be determined.

During his recent visit to Washington Mr. Walker, accompanied by counsel, held an extended conference with bureau officials. He is understood to have opposed the assessment and penalty with the plea that he was in ignorance of provisions of the federal income tax law requiring a report on the income involved.

The amount of unreported income is estimated to be somewhere between $100,000 and $150,000, depending on the year covered.

In refusing to modify the amount of the assessment and penalty, bureau officials are said to have reminded the former state executive that a grave violation of a federal statute was involved and that he was subject to prosecution. Walker, however, by the agreement of Governor Walker to accept the assessment and penalty imposed.

Hoover 'Saved' by Daugherty Latter Will Claim in Book

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The World-Telegram said tonight that former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, in his book "The Inside Story of the Harding Tragedy," accuses Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, of securing his appointment through a forged telegram.

The following quotations from the book, which will be published in two or three weeks, was printed:

"A. B. Fall and I could never have been chums in any political enterprise. I think at the last moment President Harding began to feel the unspoken antagonism between us and hesitated to make the appointment."

"Fall met the crisis in his usual bull-headed fashion. He sent Harding an urgent telegram asking his immediate appointment and signed my name to it without phoning me, wiring me or in any way hinting his purpose. This message he boldly charged to A. B. Fall."

"The appointment was made and

Clifford Walker Fined For Failing To Report $100,000 for Income Tax

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—A settlement recently has been made between the internal revenue bureau and Clifford Walker, former governor of Georgia, respecting delinquent income tax returns.

Internal revenue bureau officials decline to comment on the case, pointing to the law against disclosure or publication of information on income tax returns.

Those interested in the case indicate that the affair grew out of failure of Walker to make a complete return.

Senator Harris, democrat of Georgia, who is acquainted with the inmates, said tonight: "There is no scandal whatsoever connected with the affair—it was simply a case of neglect, which Mr. Walker himself helped the government to straighten out."

It is understood the settlement involved the assessment of a penalty upon the former governor.

1931 Was Year of News Extremes, Chronology of Events Reveals

Outstanding political activities, major trials, homicides, fires and business developments on an important scale marked the news printed in The Atlanta Constitution during 1931.

Other interesting happenings seen at a glance in the following chronology included: attempted rail breaks; while automobile accidents involving loss of life are noticed in all sections of the state.

No single event stands out readily as having a preponderance of "good copy," but the shortest month of the year, February, is significant with a number of items that "made" the front page and created widespread public interest.

In February of last year, for instance, rates for gas heating were ordered reduced by the public service commission; E. Martin Underwood was nominated for federal district court judge; Johnny Kyle, popular air mail pilot, lost his life in a crash near Camden field; the tax on chain stores was held unconstitutional; Henry York, former city councilman, began his sentence of four years in the chain gang; a lone desperado held up passengers on the Crescent Limited near Atlanta.

Highlights in the news during the year just past, follow:

JAPANESE SLATED TO TAKE CHINCHOW IN THRUST TODAY

Cameron Forbes Indicates Desire To Retire From Position as U. S. Ambassador to Japan.

By the Associated Press.
Fifteen miles from Chinchow on the banks of the Taling river the Japanese general, Jiro Tamon, halted his advance guard last night and brought up the rest of his division presumably for the final thrust on Chinchow.

Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang's Chinese defenders were in disordered retreat, piling down toward the great wall by the thousands, leaving only a small garrison to protect the government functionaries who remained behind.

At Nanking Eugene Chen, the new foreign minister, asserted that the government never had ordered evacuation of Chinchow, but, on the contrary, had told Marshal Chang repeatedly to stand his ground. That order will be repeated, he said, when the new cabinet is inaugurated today.

From Tientsin, however, came Japanese reports that the Chinese government at Chinchow had shifted its seat to Lunchow, a few miles inside the great wall.

Across the world from the sphere of action came one other outstanding development with the announcement at Washington that William Cameron Forbes, United States ambassador to Japan, had informed the state department of his wish to retire from the diplomatic service.

In a New Year's message to the American people Premier Inukai, of Japan, said the Manchurian dispute continued in Page 20, Column 3.

CHICAGO TAX LIST DECLARED INVALID

City Faces Worst Financial Crisis as It Is Robbed of Means To Collect.

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The 1928 and 1929 assessment rolls of Cook county were held invalid today by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, plunging Chicago and county finances into more dangerous financial straits as more than $100,000,000 taxes for those years are yet unpaid.

The validity of the 1930 tax rolls now due, is similarly menaced.

The decision was given in a test case brought by taxpayers with the backing of an association of real estate taxpayers. They challenged the validity of the assessments made by the county assessors and board of equalization, claiming that a vast amount of personal property had been fraudulently omitted from the rolls.

As a result of the ruling, Chicago faces a possible receivership, and the decision renders these virtually uncollectible. Of the 1928 taxes 22.2 per cent or $51,748,209 have not been paid and for 1929 the unpaid percentage is 35.3 and the total $97,532,102.

Unpaid taxes now total $144,000,000 for the years 1928 and 1929 and the decision renders these virtually uncollectible. Of the 1928 taxes 22.2 per cent or $51,748,209 have not been paid and for 1929 the unpaid percentage is 35.3 and the total $97,532,102.

Gets High Office

JULE W. FELTON JR.

FELTON SUCCEEDS CALVIN W. PARKER

Russell Names 33-Year-Old Montezuma Mayor To Service Commission.

Further recognition of Georgia's younger democracy came Thursday afternoon when Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. named Jule W. Felton Jr., of Montezuma, to succeed the late Calvin W. Parker, of Waycross, as a member of the Georgia public service commission.

Felton will come to Atlanta Saturday and take the oath of office. His appointment is until the next general election in November when he is expected to be a candidate to succeed himself.

Surprise Appointment.
The appointment came as a complete surprise to the politically-minded at the capitol. All day long one delegation after another had visited the executive offices in the interest of one candidate or another and hundreds of telegraphic endorsements were on the governor's desk when the choice was made known.

Among those who had been proposed were Mrs. Calvin W. Parker, Guy Stone, messenger of the senate; Virgil E. Parker, Atlanta lawyer; Cliff Hatcher, a former member of the house from Burke county, and former Senator Joe Burgin, of Buena Vista.

Of considerable interest at the capitol was the designation, made by those who know him intimately, of Felton as a liberal in respect to his views on rate making and public utility financing. It was generally expected that he would take a close interest in the work of the commission.

The new commissioner is a graduate of Mercer University and has served, since 1926, as mayor of Montezuma, always without opposition.

Deadly Packages Detected and Exploded by Police at Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit and Youngstown, Ohio.

NEW YORK BELIEVED
BASE FOR PLOTTERS

Authorities Fear Mails Are Carrying Other Packages in Widespread Conspiracy of Murder.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The pick of federal investigators tonight told as the means of apparently widespread New Year's Eve anti-fascist plot to deal death and destruction through the east and middle west by means of concealed bombs.

Italian officials and public figures were the immediate object of the high-powered explosives spread through the mails and by express.

Six bombs, wrapped in packages and delivered along with the rest of the New Year's parcels, were intercepted last night before they could accomplish their grim mission of death and destruction.

Three of the packages were addressed to Chicagoans. One reached the office of Oscar Freese, member of the city board of education and editor of L'Italia, pro-fascist publication, who refused to accept it. The police took it to an outlying quarry where it was exploded with the result of a "with enough force," according to Detective Chief William Shoemaker, "to tear up a city block."

Two packages addressed to the Chicago offices of the Associated Press and to the Italian consul in Chicago, Giuseppe Castuccio, were discovered too late in the day for marksmen to try to, and it was planned to attempt to set them off tomorrow.

The Duranto and Castuccio parcels were shipped from New York by express and that received by the Associated Press was sent by mail from Chicago.

Postal officials, although undetermined whether the package sent to the Chicago Associated Press office contained explosives, were considerably concerned, inasmuch as the Ashland building, housing the news service's offices, also is occupied by headquarters of the Chicago branch of the Italian-American League, the Italian-Sicilian and the Italian Chamber of Commerce.

In Detroit, police intercepted a suspected anti-fascist machine soon after it was delivered to the Gotham hotel, residence of Count Ugo Berni Canali, resident Italian vice consul.

Cleveland police found in the nick of time a powerful device addressed to Count Cesare Busiagrandemo, Italian consul. It was taken to the outskirts of the city and exploded with a rifle shot. The Chicago bomb, it likewise burst with a powerful detonation and was believed to have been loaded with nitro-glycerin and T. N. T.

A similar package also was received in Youngstown, Ohio, by Dr. A. Rasmagne, Italian consular agent, and given to the police. A rifle shot exploded it with the same terrific force that characterized the others.

Interception of the bombs yesterday was credited as largely due to the New York police department, which learned several packages of explosives.

RUSSELL SYSTEM IN EFFECT TODAY

Broader Policy of Government Promised To Citizens of Georgia.

Simultaneous meetings this morning at 10 o'clock of the board of regents and the board of control will mark the first major official functions of the state government as reorganized by the last general assembly.

Heads of the University of Georgia system are expected to parade before the regents with a report of their year's work and plans for the ensuing 12 months. Much the same procedure will be before the board of control. Governor Russell, as ex-officio member, will divide his time between the two meetings.

Beginning at 8 o'clock this morning, the sale of automobile license tags will be made by the state tax board. The cage, from which sales have heretofore been made, has been transferred from the offices of the secretary of state to the rotunda of the capitol on the second floor of the building.

Among the last final meetings of old boards was that Thursday of the state board of health. Today the work of this department is passed on to the shoulders of Dr. T. F. Abercrombie, who has been secretary and commissioner to the board. Today the work of the old board included a $100,000 cash balance at the Grace Wood School for the Feeble-minded.

Under reorganization, all tax collecting has been merged under the commission headed by Paul H. Doyal, chairman, with Comptroller General W. B. Harrison and Revenue Commissioner R. E. Matheson as the other two members. A new supervisor of purchases accountable to the governor takes office today, as also do four new assistants to the attorney-general.

Beginning also today is the operation of the state's budget control law and the administrative feature of the appropriation bill which brings the state's outgo under the governor.

COUSIN OF ATLANTAN CAPTIVE IN CHINA

Georgia representatives in congress were called upon Thursday to seek the release of Miss Harriett Halverstadt, a missionary in China, who was captured recently by Chinese bandits. She is the cousin of W. E. Floding, Atlanta business man, and the news of her capture was given out by Associated Press Wednesday.

proceedings to interest the state department in Washington in his cousin's release and the letters were written to Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George. Mr. Floding became anxious about Miss Halverstadt when he failed to receive his usual Christmas card from the missionary.

William D. Thomson, attorney, has been appointed receiver of the Keely Company, on Whitehall street, by Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood. The receiver's bond was set at $15,000.

Judge Underwood consolidated involuntary and voluntary bankruptcy petitions filed in the case. Keely Company, one of Atlanta's oldest department stores, filed its voluntary petition several days after the involuntary petition was filed by several creditors.

Prophecy Is Seen
In Old Message
By Washington

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—A New Year's message of prophetic words given to America a century and a half ago by President Washington today was brought forth again by the George Washington bicentennial commission. It said:
"Although I pretend to no peculiar information respecting commercial affairs, nor any foresight into scenes of futurity, yet, as the member of an infant empire, as a philanthropist of character, and (if I may be allowed the expression), as a citizen of the great republic of humanity at large, I cannot help turning my attention sometimes to this subject.
"I would be understood to mean, I cannot avoid reflecting with pleasure on the probable influence that commerce may hereafter have on human manners and society in general. On these occasions I consider how mankind may be connected like one great family on fraternal ties. I indulge a fond, perhaps an enthusiastic idea, that, as the world is evidently much less barbarous than it has been, its amelioration must still be progressive; that nations are becoming more humanized in their policy; that the subjects of ambition and causes of hostility are daily diminishing; and, in fine, that the period is not very remote, when the benefits of a liberal and free commerce will pretty generally succeed to the devastations and horrors of war."

LEWIS IS MANAGER OF GENERAL FOODS

J. C. Lewis, formerly with the Calumet Baking Powder Company, has been appointed district manager of the General Foods Sales Company, Inc., with headquarters in Atlanta.
His appointment is effective Friday. He succeeds W. B. O'Daniel, who was drafted for service in the company's Dallas district territory. Announcement of the change was made to the company's customers by J. K. Evans, vice president and eastern sales manager, New York.
Mr. Lewis comes to Atlanta from the eastern sales office. He is an executive of wide experience in the food distribution lines.
General Foods Company is the sales organization handling Baker's Chocolate, Calumet Baking Powder, Jell-o and other nationally advertised food products.
ACTION ON J. C. ASKEW
IS EXPLAINED BY CHIEF
Chief of Police James L. Beavers Thursday let it be known that former Patrolman J. C. Askeew was not reinstated by the police committee at its Wednesday meeting "after having been discharged for protecting a bootlegger." The facts, the chief pointed out, were that new evidence inconsistent with a verdict of guilty was placed before the committee, which reconsidered its former action and found Askeew not guilty.
The chief also made clear that former Captain Grover C. Fain was not reinstated by unanimous action of the board. Alderman J. C. Murphy having voted in the negative; while Alderman Alvin C. Richards voted "no" on the proposal to place before the grand jury the controversy between Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant and a former Georgian reporter.

CANNOT "STOP" ROOSEVELT.

The statement of Senator Dill, of Washington, that the democrats can best "meet the third party threat" by the nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt succinctly sums up the situation faced by the party—and it is a timely warning that should not be disregarded.

The nomination of Roosevelt would consolidate the disaffected element of the republican party and bring them almost to a man into the democratic fold.

On the other hand, should the undercurrent efforts now being made to prevent his nomination be successful, it would mean that hundreds of thousands of republicans, now rebelling against the present policies of their party, would be driven into a third party—and a third party movement at this time would be disastrous to democratic success.

If Roosevelt is nominated he will be elected by the largest majority received by a candidate for president in many years.

It is not to be wondered at, therefore, that interest in bringing out opposition to his nomination is confined, largely, to republican sources.

Republican papers continue to urge the "favorite son" idea and they miss no opportunity to play up the imaginary strength of other prominent democrats. To them it is now a question of "anything to defeat Roosevelt."

With Roosevelt as the nominee the democrats will carry two-thirds of the states west of the Mississippi river, every southern state, will sweep the middle west, and get a majority of the electoral votes of the central and eastern states.

The democrats can commit political hara-kiri by listening to the desperate efforts of republican newspapers and leaders to "stop Roosevelt."

They will do this. To do it would be admission of political insanity.

1932!

There is no reasonable ground for pessimism for Atlanta, and the territory of which it is the hub, during the year which starts today.

On the other hand, there are sound reasons for an optimistic expectation of increasing business and improved conditions agriculturally and industrially.

The south's prosperity is based fundamentally on the well being of its agricultural sections. Today the farmers of the south are in a better condition than they were a year ago and, generally speaking, they are faring better than other lines of business.

For the first time since the Civil War Georgia will produce this year enough of table and cattle food products to supply her needs, while her cattle and hog production will be greatly enlarged.

As a result a large portion of the nearly one hundred million dollars we have been sending away each year for food and feed will be kept at home to improve financial conditions in the agricultural counties of the state.

Business through the sixth federal reserve district has been good during 1931 when compared with the losses experienced in other sections. It undoubtedly will be better this year.

There have been no series of distressing bank crashes in Georgia during 1931.

Many mills are still idle or working on part time, but the decreased stocks of all kinds throughout the country means that they will have to gradually increase their output.

So far as Atlanta and Georgia are concerned 1932 is certain to see a gradual loosening of the bonds of depression and the starting of an era of prosperity.

And the best part about it is that the prosperity which is ahead of us will be all the sounder for the lessons we have learned during the past two years of disturbed economic conditions. On the farm, in the merchandise marts and in the financial houses waste has been eliminated and efficiency has been replaced slipshod methods of the past.

So 1932 can be greeted with confidence as we return to normalcy.

That Finnish blizzard is declared to have chilled the ardor of the prohibs but not of the wets. The reason was probably well bottled.

Those Japanese pincers closing in on Chingchow will prove harbingers of better conditions if the experience of other towns cleaned out by the Japs counts for anything.

Class of Radio Advertising In U.S. Denounced by Perry

BY EARL B. STEELE.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 31.—(UP)

Advertising by radio has reached such a deplorable state that the Lincoln's birthday and Red Cross address of the president of the United States were made adjuncts of a ballyhoo for cigarettes, and Jesus of Nazareth suffered a like indignity in any number of Christmas programs, scientists gathered in convention were told Wednesday.

In a bitter denunciation of the American broadcast system, Armstrong Perry, counsel for the nation's scientists and defense their country, said people are rightly indignant at such exhibitions as are carried into the American homes.

He commended newspapers for combatting radio advertising.

Perry, who only 2 weeks ago returned from Europe, where he studied broadcast methods of 14 countries, told the United Press that America is far behind in radio development and that everyone of the countries he visited is making money on a system of operation whereby the government runs the radio business without benefit of advertising.

"Radios in Europe are used to serve the people," he said. "They are not exploited for the purpose of making money. Perry told the people and their country the United Press before appearing on the convention program of the American association for the Advancement of Science here.

He said despite all the superlative programs put on by American advertisers, his investigation convinced him most people were paying no more attention to radio advertisements, tuning them out promptly, and if anything resentful of such methods.

"Commercial radio control 94 per cent of our radio channels and have power of censorship over everything broadcast. They are exercising this power in a way which is not only obnoxious but dangerous," Perry said.

He charged that some of the most persistent radio advertisers were violators of the pure food and drug laws. "States are getting tired of spending tax money to send lawyers and witnesses to Washington to appear before the Federal Trade Commission and constitutional rights to operate broadcasting stations and to administer education their own way.

So spoke Jan Christian Smuts, former premier of South Africa, a man who belongs in a far bigger political framework than mere local South African politics. He is one of the few men who warned Clemenceau and the others that the League of Nations was a trap for the peace of Versailles.

"We are in the throes of a bitter economic war. It will throw Europe into a state of chaos. We need to take the problem in its entirety. If we do not the danger increases every hour."

So spoke Chancellor Brüning, of Germany. Reparation payments are being paid to the victors. The victors are convinced of this now, except France, the chief interested. As soon as France understands and assumes the work in reparation payments, we will be back on the road to normalcy and prosperity.

INDIAN WAR THREAT COULD DELAYS STEADILY GROWING ACTION ON RECALL

BY JAMES A. MILLS.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.)

BOMBAY, Jan. 1.—(Friday)—Mahatma Gandhi informed Viceroy Lord Willingdon today that he would withhold renewing the civil disobedience campaign of warfare against the British government until the viceroy would grant him an interview for the discussion of recent restrictive ordinances.

"If you think it worth while to see me," Gandhi said in reply to a telegram from the viceroy, "I will stand before him the government would ruthlessly crush agitators. The working committee of the All-India Congress will suspend operation of a resolution renewing civil disobedience which, at my suggestion, the committee tentatively outlined."

This resolution said that in the absence of any satisfactory response from the government to the contrary, the committee will consider that the government has reduced the Delhi treaty to nullity.

In that event, the resolution summoned the nation to resume not only civil disobedience but also non-payment of taxes, boycott on foreign goods and picketing of liquor shops, and to begin again the unlicensed mass for the collection of funds.

The resolution also contained a grim command to the followers of the congress that "if processions and demonstrations are organized, only those should join who will stand up to the police and bullets without moving from their places."

The resolution rejected Prime Minister MacDonald's final declaration at the recent round-table conference as wholly unsatisfactory and inadequate.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PASFEN

An Expensive Joke.

"We live under a sky without sun, in an atmosphere poisoned with evil vapors, on a foundation which is undetermined and tottering," so said Herr Kämpchen, one of the leaders of the Christian-social party in Vienna.

"When Germany falls, England must follow sooner or later. It is better to acknowledge this fact openly and fearlessly than to hide it. It serves no purpose to keep the illusion in respect to international debts and reparations payments, which have caused the chaos in international finance and embittered international relations. It is time to end this expensive joke and to give the world back some measure of hope and courage. If we are not to do this we will be faced with a new crisis in reparation payments. And a final solution has become imperative, if we are not to be swept away."

So spoke Jan Christian Smuts, former premier of South Africa, a man who belongs in a far bigger political framework than mere local South African politics. He is one of the few men who warned Clemenceau and the others that the League of Nations was a trap for the peace of Versailles.

BERLIN, WESLEY BROWN (Army Serial No. 1300673), Sergeant Company M, 117th Infantry, 30th Division, American Expeditionary Force, awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for gallantry in action with the enemy near Buzancy, France, October 18, 1918.

When his platoon had been driven back by a concerted machine gun fire, he was seriously wounded and had fallen on the field, Sergeant Brown was the only man left standing. He brought the officer back to our lines in a hail of machine gun bullets. The dauntless courage of this soldier was an example of heroism to all.

Welcome to the New Year From Mark Cooper Pope

Editor Constitution: The infant 1932 has arrived and we welcome him with glad acclaim. He has the seat of honor, at our board and in our hearts. None but the Eternal God can comprehend the possibilities lying out before him.

He enters a world that seems to stagger; he comes to speak courage and inspire hope. The millions who suffer, he will relieve. To those without work, he will give a job. The only demand he makes is a recognition of the eternal verities of life at least on the part of those who ask his aid.

If you do not understand, your next door neighbor does, and he will gladly explain.

MARK COOPER POPE.

Hail the New Year

All hail the New Year! High souled and strong-headed.

Let's give him whatever his reign holds in store.

The Old Year, his gloom and his glory departed.

Shall sadden or gladden our spirits no more!

Experience has rendered us free contributions

Of wisdom to guard and guide us each day;

Then let us live up to our fair resolutions

And pray God to strengthen and keep us always.

Keep burning Love's warm and unquenchable ember.

Which makes all life's seasons delightful blends.

Till fades the last moment of Time's old December

And the summer of Eden dawns never to end.

Come, forget all the past and drown all the sorrow

And quaff the elixir of gladness and health.

And wreathed be our lips with the haunts of tomorrow—

A smile and a song for each one here—

—JULIA FOLSOM HARGRAVE.

New Year Song

On this New Year Day

Sun of praise rise in our sky!

Free clouds of gloom away.

Aye, forgetting grief and wrong

In one grand New Year song.

A Song of 1931

(He Went Off One Night in the Rain)

Ah man he was a perfect pain,

He went off one night in the rain;

His hard luck name

He gave him the name of a pain.

He went off one night in the rain.

He tied half of us with a chain—

The other half, fixed so we couldn't

Our creditors betrayed us

En the sheriff fi-fa-ed us

Fore that had feller left in the rain.

O we hope we'll never see again

That feller that skipped in the rain;

Thirty-two may be wuss

But defen' us from the cuss

That broke us, then let us in the rain.

—THOMAS JEFFERSON FLANAGAN.

So we figure that this grand old Championship Country is in the pink and at the right edge to climb into the ring and wham the daylight out of the situation!

BETTER CONDITIONS SEEN BY ARKWRIGHT

Increased Consumption Noted in Last Six Months of 1931.

Increased consumption of electric power, long recognized as one of the most accurate barometers of general business conditions, has been registered during each of the six months from June through November over the same months of 1930 in the territory served by the Georgia Power Company, it was made known here Thursday by P. S. Arkwright, president of the company. Confidence was expressed by Mr. Arkwright that the December figures when ready would likewise show an increase over December, 1930.
Mr. Arkwright's statement was contained in a letter sent to stockholders of the company along with checks totaling $863,195.75 covering January 1 quarterly dividend payments on the company's $6 and $5 preferred stock. Contrasting the improvement beginning in June with conditions during the first five months of the year, when each month showed a decrease in the use of electricity under the same month in 1930, Mr. Arkwright said, "the maintaining of this increase, even though slight, over a period of six months in succession would seem to indicate that business conditions in Georgia are becoming stabilized and that the groundwork is being laid for an improvement in 1932. We are facing the new year with a feeling of confidence tempered only by the constructively conservative policies which must be followed until nationwide and worldwide conditions have adjusted themselves."
Stockholders of the company were assured by Mr. Arkwright that the company had earned a "comfortable and comforting" margin over and above the $6 and $5 preferred stock dividend, although the company's net income had "suffered a sharp reduction" due to external business conditions which he described as "the most unfavorable in the entire history of the company." An earnings statement accompanying Mr. Arkwright's letter and covering the 12 months ending November 30 showed a decrease of $1,034,794.14 in the company's net income under the similar period of the preceding year.

Gar Wood Plans New Record Trials

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 31.—(P)—Possibility that Gar Wood may make his attempt to set a world's new speedboat record January 10, timed by electrical timing devices to be used at the All-American air meet in Miami, was seen by the speed veteran's friends here today.

The Miss America IX, twin-engined 2,200-horsepower boat with which Wood hopes to return the world's mark to America, is ready for the test, after having run trial distances on the Indian creek course here.
Wood was called to New York on business shortly before the holidays, but is expected here within a few days.

12 new "firsts of the month"

DEC. NOV. OCT. SEP. AUG. JUL. JUN. MAY. APR. MAR. FEB. JAN.

What prospects do They Hold for YOU

There is an old proverb about "kicking the can down the road" ... this bit of strategy involves the principle of striking and forestalling trouble before trouble has an opportunity to kick first. ... If we are unprepared, first of the month can be responsible for a great deal of needless annoyance and trouble ... you can prepare NOW for 1932's first of the month by utilizing Morris Plan's financial service ... here ready funds are obtainable to bring your present money matters up-to-date, and then, with a fresh start, a little simple management will soon bring about financial orderliness.

Morris Plan's loan service, inexpensive and prompt, is based on three simple points ... first, good character; second, ability to repay; third, a worthy need ... the signatures of yourself and two friends, relatives or business associates serve as collateral ... and there is the additional advantage of one-year terms.

Nine O'Clocks Welcome New Year At Brilliant Costume Ball

The new year was welcomed by 400 members of fashionable Atlanta society last evening at a colorful and spectacular costume ball given by the Nine O'Clocks, exclusive social organization, at the Piedmont Driving Club. Upon arrival the guests stepped right into the midst of a circus, the entire club being transformed into a carnival appearance. Huge red signs, 12 by 15 feet in size, covered the walls of the entrance room, logos and refreshment booths, on which were large, yellow letters directing the guests to the side show exhibits of "The Fat Lady," "The Human Snake Eater," "The World's Tallest Man," "The Siamese Twins," etc. The spacious ballroom made an ideal setting for the "big tent" formed of gold cloth with a shining border of red fringe. Suspended from the ceiling were trapeze rings and huge red and gold colored pennants wrapped the stately white columns down either side of the ballroom. Clusters of gay-colored balloons floated from the chandeliers and over the doorway.

Just inside the big tent refreshment tables were arranged and covered with red and yellow checked cloths. The center of each table marked by a green bottle holding red burning candles.

During the supper hour a vaudeville show was given by actors from the Fox theater, including dance numbers by 16 beautiful blonde dancing girls. Music for the vaudeville furnished by the Fox orchestra with Enrico Leide as leader.

Culbertson on Contract Four Bids—a Grand Slam Made

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

I have always contended that at the base of any successful system of bidding there must be an accurate system of hand valuation, otherwise all bids, whether for game, for part-score or for Slam, are little better than guessing tests and it matters little how expert guessers the card players may be. There are two things about guesses. They are either right or wrong.

The Official System, which Mr. Lenz advocates and which he is using in his battle of 1,001 hands with me in New York, does not have a system of correctly evaluating the high cards. Instead, people who use it are advised to make their own selection of card valuation rules. This would be very similar to a builder offering to erect for you a skyscraper such as the Empire State building and guarantee its solidity, but permit you to determine whether the building, stretching high into the air, should have any foundation or none. Obviously such a structure is weakened from the beginning.

A vivid example of the failure to have an adequate measuring stick and correctly apply it is given by hand No. 10 of the match, which was the second hand of rubber No. 2:

Mr. Lenz
♠ A 7 4
♥ A Q 10 6 5
♦ 10 9 8 4

Mr. Culbertson
♠ J 10 2
♥ N
♦ W
♣ S

Mr. Jacoby
♠ K 9
♥ K 9 7 4
♦ A K Q 6 5
♣ 8 5

The Bidding.
(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1♣	Pass	3♠(1)
Pass	4♣(2)	Pass	4♠(3)
Pass	Pass	(4)Pass

1—Correctly using a Forcing Take-out.

2—Mr. Lenz holds an additional Raise for his partner's Takeout in response. Possibly he wanted to learn about Mr. Jacoby's support for hearts, although his pass on the next round seems to belie that intention.

3—An entirely inadequate bid under the Culbertson System, but perhaps consistent with the Official System. In support of the heart bid, South can count no less than 7 playing-tricks after North has shown support for the diamonds. Certainly a bid of five hearts would be fully justified.

4—North probably cannot be blamed for failure to make a Slam try. In the play East opened the 5 of spades, and all 13 tricks were won by North. The opening of a club would have saved 1 trick, but East and West could never take any more. Seemingly the Official System needs revision along the line of Slam bidding.

TODAY'S POINTER.
Question: Lacking technical support for partner, how many honor-tricks should the Responding Hand have in order to make a no-trump Overcall?
Answer: 1-2.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.
Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of The Atlanta Constitution, enclosing a two-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Auto Wreck Victim Baffles Physicians By Strange Actions

Doctors at Wesley Memorial hospital Thursday night were more than ordinarily interested in what was described as one of the strangest cases ever treated there.

Thursday morning a man whose pockets contained insurance papers covering the life of W. C. Dixon was brought to the hospital for treatment after being found in a wrecked automobile on Lawrenceville road. Despite the fact that not a bruise or cut could be found on his body, the man was unconscious. He later revived sufficiently to talk, but knew nothing of his name, home or relatives. Doctors asserted that the patient showed no signs of drugs or intoxicants and said it was one of the most baffling cases they had seen.
